Workman represented by Shri Subhash Naik.

Party II represented by Adv. Shri K. L. Gaonkar.

AWARD

(Passed on this 21st day of August, 2012)

In exercise of powers conferred by clause (d) of sub-section (1) of Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (for short The Act) the Government of Goa by order dated 12-09-2008 bearing No. 28/15/2008-LAB/1348 referred the following dispute for adjudication by this Tribunal.

"(1) Whether the action of the management of M/s. Gomantak Private Limited, Panaji, in terminating the services of Shri Savio D'Souza, Assistant News Co-ordinator w.e.f. 01-01-2004, is legal and justified?
(2) If not, what relief the Workman is entitled to?"

2. Upon receipt of the reference, a case was registered under No. IT/33/08 and registered A.D. notice was issued to the parties. In pursuance to the said notice Workman filed claim statement at Exb. 6 and Party II filed the written statement at Exb. 8. Workman then filed rejoinder denying the averments in the written statement of Party II.

3. It is in short the case of Workman that Party II engages a large number of employees in Goa, to bring out their news papers and that Workman was initially employed as Chief sub-editor in Gomantak Times by Party II by letter dated 14-11-94 w.e.f. 28-12-94 in permanent post initially on probation for six months and he continued to work as such till 2-7-98 when he was issued another appointment letter dated 2-7-98 designating him as Asstt. News Co-ordinator from 1-7-98 to 30-6-99. That on 1-7-99 he was issued another appointment letter dated 1-7-99 designating him as Asstt. News Co-ordinator from 1-7-99 to 30-6-2000. That again on 1-7-2000 he was issued another letter designating him as Asstt. News Co-ordinator from 1-7-2000 to 30-6-2001. That again on 1-7-2001 he was issued another letter designating him as Asstt. News Co-ordinator from 1-7-2001 to 30-6-2002. That again on 1-7-2002 he was issued another letter designating him as Asstt. News Co-ordinator from 1-7-2002 to 30-6-2003 and thereafter he was issued another letter dated 25-8-0 designating him as Asstt. News Co-ordinator and further stating that his service is for one year retrospectively from 1-7-03 to 31-12-03.

4. That thereafter Party II issued to the Workman a letter dated 29-11-03 terminating his services w.e.f. 1-1-04 and further stating that the Workman should collect the salary for the month of December on 31-12-03. The Workman thereafter addressed letter dated 1-4-04 to Party II demanding reinstatement in service with full back wages and continuity of service which was replied by Party II by reply dated 17-1-04 by levelling several allegations of misconduct against the Workman. The Workman then raised an Industrial dispute which ended in failure and the same came to be referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

5. It is the contention of the Workman that he had put in over 240 days of service one year prior to his termination; that he was not paid retrenchment compensation; that Party II did not follow the principle of "last come, first go" while removing him from service and that Party II took new employees in his place without calling him for reemployment. Thus, the Workman has prayed to hold that such action of management was illegal, unjustified and malafide and to reinstate him in service with full back wages and continuity in service with costs.

6. In defence it is the case of Party II that the work of the Workman was not satisfactory and he had been issued memos dated 10-4-95, 18-4-95, 30-4-95 and by letter dated 21-6-95 his probation period was extended and thereafter by letter dated 12-1-97 he was given strict warning for committing mistakes and was asked to give written explanation. That at the request of the Workman and in order to give him chance of improving he was offered service vide contract letters dated 2-7-98, 1-7-99, 1-7-2000, 1-7-2001 and 1-7-2002. It is stated that inspite of giving opportunities the Workman committed the mistakes and subsequently he was given last opportunity and a service contract for a period of six months from 1-7-03 to 31-12-03 on certain terms and conditions entered into and clause 7 of this contract stated that either Party may terminate the contract without any reason thereof by giving one months notice or an amount equal to one months salary in lieu of notice to either party. That subsequently the editor and the office bearers of administration of the company came to the conclusion that the Workman had to be terminated as there was no sign of improvement and accordingly by letter dated 29-11-03 his services were terminated w.e.f. 1-1-04. It is stated that Party II by his reply dated 17-3-04 justified the termination giving reasons and issued its letter to Labour Commissioner, Panaji, Goa. Thus, amongst above and other grounds, Party II has prayed to dismiss the, claim of the Workman.

7. In view of above averments of the respective parties issues at Exb. 10 dated 1-10-09 were framed.

8. Workman Shri Savio D'Souza examined himself as witness No. 1 and closed the case. Shri Subhash Naik was examined as witness No. 1 for Party II and the case of Party II was closed after his evidence.

9. Heard Shri Subhas Naik for the Workman and Adv. Shri K. L. Gaonkar for Party II.

10. I have gone through the records of the case and have duly considered the arguments advanced on behalf of both the parties.

11. I am reproducing the issues alongwith their findings and reasons thereof.

Issues	Finding
1	2
1. Whether the Party I proves that the Party II has terminated his services in contravention of Sec. 25F, 25G and 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947?	Positive to the extent of contravention of Sec. 25F.
2. Whether the Party I proves that Party II has practiced unfair labour practice by appointing him on contract basis on permanent post?	Negative.
3. Whether Party I proves termination is in that his contravention of principles of natural justice?	Positive.

1	2
4. Whether Party I proves that his termination is illegal and unjust	Positive.
5. What order? What relief?	As per order below.

REASONS

12. Issue Nos. 1, 3 and 4: All these three issues are answered together for the sake of convenience as they are interconnected since they relate to termination of services of the Workman.

13. There is otherwise no dispute that the Workman was initially employed as chief subeditor in Gomantak Times by letter of Party II dated 14-11-94 w.e.f. 28-12-94. The Workman has produced this letter dated 14-11-94 at Exb. 12. Though it is stated by the Workman that vide Exb. 12, he was appointed on a permanent post but perusal of Exb. 12 indicates that there is nothing in it stating that the Workman was appointed on "permanent" post. Nonetheless, as per this letter the Workman was appointed on probation for a period of six months and after his performance was reviewed he was to be confirmed in the post. It may be mentioned here that, Shri Subhash Naik, the witness of Party II has stated that by letter dated 21-6-95 the probation period of the Workman as Chief Sub-Editor was extended since his work was found to be unsatisfactory but it is noted that Shri Subhas Naik has not produced on record the said letter and even for that matter in the cross examination of the Workman it is not suggested that his probationary period was extended vide letter dated 21-6-95. On the contrary, in his cross examination the Workman has stated that on completion of probationary period his services were confirmed, as it was a General practice to do so. Thus, benefit of above convention deserves to be given to the Workman in order to accept his statement that his probationary period was completed.

14. The Workman has produced on record his service contract letters dated 2-7-98 whereby he has worked from 1-7-98 to 30-6-99 at Exb. 13, dated 1-7-99 whereby he has worked from 1-7-99 to 30-6-2000 at Exb. 14, dated 1-7-2000 whereby he has worked from 1-7-2000 to 30-6-2001 at Exb. 15, dated 1-7-2001 whereby he has worked from 1-7-01 to 30-6-02 at Exb. 16, dated 1-7-02 whereby he has worked from 1-7-02 to 30-6-03 at Exb. 17 and dated 25-8-03 whereby he was offered service contract with retrospective effect from 1-7-03 to 31-12-03. The Workman has also produced termination letter dated 29-11-03 at Exb. 19 vide which his services stood terminated w.e.f. 1-1-04 as Asstt. News Co-ordinator.

15. Thus, from the above documentary evidence including the letter at Exb. 12 it becomes clear that the Workman was employed with Party II from 28-12-94 till the date of his termination on 1-1-04. It may be mentioned here that the witness of Party II Shri Subhash Naik has otherwise admitted the above fact though according to him the Workman was employed during the above entire tenure on contract basis. It is also clear from the cross examination of Shri Subhash Naik that Party II maintains the attendance register which the Workman used to sign whenever he reported for duty. He has also stated that the attendance register would show whether the Workman has worked continuously or not and that he would produce the said register if available but has not produced the same thereafter. Thus, adverse inference deserves to be drawn on the above subject thereby holding that the Workman was employed with Party II during the entire period from 28-12-94 to 1-1-04. The very fact that the Workman was employed with Party II from 28-12-94 till the date of his termination on 1-1-04 makes it clear that the Workman was in the continuous service of the Party II, as required u/s 25B of the Act.

16. The Workman has stated that at the time of termination he was not paid retrenchment compensation. In his cross examination it is brought on record that Party II had prepared the statement of final settlement of accounts, dated 31-12-03 and the Workman had received ₹ 7,216/- towards his salary for the month of December, 2003 after deducting the provident fund account. This receipt/settlement is brought on record through the Workman at Exb. 30. The Workman has further stated that he had signed Exb. 30 for having received the said amount of ₹ 7216/- towards full and final settlement and he had given the declaration that he had no other claim of whatsoever against the Company in connection with his employment with them and subsequent termination of his appointment. He has however added that he had to give such a declaration as otherwise he would not have got the money.

17. In the above context, it is worthwhile referring to the evidence of Shri Subhash Naik, the witness I for Party II, who though in his examination in chief has stated that the Workman had signed Exb. 30 towards full and final settlement of his claims but in his cross examination has stated that he is not aware whether the Workman was paid retrenchment compensation and he is aware that at the time of his termination the Workman was paid salary of ₹ 8,200/- less P.F. deduction and that this amount was paid towards final settlement dues. He has also stated that he does not know whether the Workman was paid any amount in addition to ₹ 8200/-.

18. With reference to above controversy, Shri Subhash Naik representing Workman by inviting my attention to the observations in the judgment in the case of Nar Singh Pal v/s Union of India & Ors. 2001 LLJ 1938 contended that Apex Court in this case has held that merely acceptance of retrenchment compensation by the Workman does not mean that he has surrendered all his constitutional rights in favour of the Company and that the fundamental rights under the constitution cannot be bartered away.

19. It may be mentioned here that perusal of Exb. 30 reveals that it relates to payment of salary for the month of December, 2003 and though the Workman has accepted the said amount in full and final settlement of his account, Exb. 30 nowhere states that there is compliance of Section 25F (b) of the Act, through it. That apart, even Shri Subhash Naik the witness for Party II appears to be not sure as to whether the Workman was paid the retrenchment compensation and in such situation and merely because the Workman has accepted the amount mentioned in Exb. 30 in full and final settlement, it would not mean that the said amount has been paid as retrenchment compensation u/s 25 F of the Act and this is because Workman has made it clear that he had to give such declaration as otherwise he would not have got the money. Thus, it has to be held that the Workman has not surrendered his constitutional rights by signing Exb. 30.

20. Shri Subhash Naik representing Party II has relied on the judgment in the case of Haryana Agricultural University v/s Presiding Officer, Industrial Tribunal-cum-Labour Court and Another 2011 LLR 1218 the observations in which indicate that termination of service of an employee who has completed 240 days continuous service, without payment of retrenchment compensation simultaneously at the time of termination by complying with the provisions of Sec. 25F, may attract reinstatement, that too with full back wages, continuity of service and consequential relief. It is also clear from the observations in this judgment that a contractual agreement, cannot override the mandatory provisions of Sec. 25B of the Act meaning thereby once the Workmen completed 240 days in continuous service within a period of one year as defined u/s 25B, then he cannot legally be retrenched without complying with the mandatory provisions as contemplated u/s 25F of the Act.

21. In the context of above contentions of the Workman, learned advocate for Party II relied on the judgment in the case of Maharashtra State Electricity Board v/s Suresh Vaidyanath Pagar 1996(3) ALL MR 337 in which case the services of the respondent Workmen were brought to an end on account of certain stipulations contained in the appointment letter which is that his appointment which was on purely temporary basis for a period not exceeding three months was to continue subject to his candidature being recommended by employment exchange; that he had to be selected for appointment by the competent selection committee of the board and also there had to be availability of vacancy and there was no fulfillment of above stipulations. It was in these circumstances held that the termination of his services did not amount to retrenchment and the case squarely fell within sub-clause (bb) of S.2(00) of the Act.

22. Learned advocate for the Workman also relied on the judgment in the case of Blow Plast Limited v/s Mrs. Nafisa Shabbir Hussain Mashraqui & ors 1997 (3) ALL MR 606 in which case the Workmen was granted extraordinary leave upon her undertaking to the management that under no circumstances there would be extension of leave beyond the appointed date and if she did not turn up on that date, the management was free to take appropriate action including termination of services. Since the Workman did not resume her duties upon expiry of the leave period, her services were terminated and it was held that there was no termination of service by the management by any overt act but it was a case of relinquishment of service by the employee who had lost her lien to the job by not reporting for duty on the appointed date and that the management had only enforced the undertaking given by the employee by which the employee had modified her initial contract of employment and agreed that if she failed to report for work on the appointed date, she would lose her right to retain her job. It was therefore held that in such situation the provisions of Sec. 25F would not attract and the case would come u/s 2(00) (bb) of the Act.

23. The above judgments have been relied upon by learned advocate for Party II to impress upon the court that the termination of the Workman herein does not attract Sec. 25F of the Act and the same comes within the ambit of clause (bb) of Sec. 2(00) of the Act. This is because according to learned advocate for Party II vide clause 7 of contract letter dated 25-8-03 (Exb. 18) Party II had option to terminate the contract without assigning any reason thereof by giving one month notice or an amount equal to one month salary in lieu of the notice. He also referred to clause 12 of Exb. 18 to contend that in terms of this clause the contract had expired strictly on completion of six months period.

24. Nevertheless, Perusal of cross-examination of witness of Party II namely Subhash Naik makes it clear beyond doubt that, termination of the Workman was on account of his misconduct and not because of expiry of the contract period. However reading of the termination letter dated 29-11-03 (Exb. 19) reveals that the termination of the Workman was in terms of clause 7 of Exb. 18. Thus, there is inconsistency on the above subject.

25. It may be mentioned here that perusal of cross-examination of the Workman indicates that there is admission on his part of having received memos dated 18-4-95 (Exb. 27) and 19-6-95 (Exb. 28) and according to Shri Subhash Naik these memos were issued as the work of the Workman was not found satisfactory. The Workman has also admitted of having received a letter dated 14-3-02 (Exb. 29) from the Manager of Party II vide which he was warned of severe action if he committed mistakes as mentioned in this letter. It is pertinent to note that, in his affidavit in evidence Shri Subhash Naik has referred to memos dated 10-4-95 (Exb. 33), dated nil (Exb. 34), both issued to the Workman by Party II for his mistakes, letter dated 12-5-95 (Exb. 35) asking for the reply on the memo dated 30-4-95 issued to the Workman, letter dated 14-4-99 (Exb. 36) issued to the Workman regarding misuse of computers, letter dated 16-6-99 (Exb. 37) warning the Workman for using office machinery, letter dated 14-3-02 (Exb. 38) by the editor of Party II to its Manager suggesting to issue memo to the Workman, letter dated 4-12-02 (Exb. 39) by the Manager of Party II to the Workman warning him of taking action if he indulged in indiscipline and insubordination and letter dated 30-11-02 (Exb. 40) by the editor of Party II to the Manager to issue memo to the Workman for indulging in the acts of insubordination and indiscipline.

26. It is pertinent to note that all the above documents ranging from Exb. 33 to Exb. 40 were not shown to the Workman in his cross examination and even for that matter the date of Exb. 37 as 16-4-99 was also not put to the Workman in his cross examination. Further, no suggestion as regards letter dated 4-12-02 (Exb. 39) was put to the Workman in his cross-examination. This being the case all the above documents ranging from Exb. 33 to Exb. 40 cannot be read in evidence as no opportunity was given to the Workman to give explanation on these documents as the same were not even shown to the Workman. Nonetheless, it would not be out of place to say that all these documents i.e. from Exb. 33 to Exb. 40 have been brought on record by Party II only to make out a case that the work of the Workman was not satisfactory and it is for this reason his services were terminated and which defence is apparently foreign to the contents of the termination letter dated 29-11-03 at Exb. 19.

27. Be that as it may, it is stated by Shri Subhash Naik in his affidavit in evidence that by letter dated 12-1-97 the Workman was given strict warning for committing mistakes and was asked to give written explanation so also he was asked as to why action should not be taken against him for the loss/damages and inconvenience caused to the newspaper and the Company. It is however noted that Shri Subhash Naik has not produced the said so called warning letter dated 12-1-97 on record and even for that matter no such letter was shown to the Workman in his cross examination. Being so, the above statement made by Shri Subhash Naik, cannot be accepted. It is also seen that Shri Subhash Naik has further stated in his affidavit in evidence that during the term of Workman's contract period there were complaints against him but the Workman was given opportunity to improve himself vide letter dated 1-7-99 and was appointed as Assistant New Co-ordinator. It is however seen that in the said letter dated 1-7-99 (Exb. 14) there is nothing to indicate that this letter was given to the Workman in order to give him opportunity to improve himself. What appears from the written statement of Party II so also from the evidence of Shri Subhash Naik and the case put to the Workman in his cross examination is that the services of the Workman were terminated as his work was unsatisfactory but perusal of termination letter dated 29-11-03 (Exb. 19) makes it clear that the services of the Workman were terminated in terms of clause 7 of his service contract letter dated 25-8-03 (Exb. 18). This clause 7 reads as under:

“During the pendency of this contract, either party may terminate the contract without assigning any reason thereof by giving one month notice or an amount equal to one month salary in lieu of the notice to either party”.

Thus, it is clear that Party II was not required to give any reason for terminating the contract, in terms of above clause 7 of Exb. 18. Nevertheless, such is not the case of Party II in their written statement and also no such case has been put to the Workman in his cross examination thereby making it clear that the case projected before the court is not in consonance with the contents of termination letter dated 29-11-03 (Exb. 19).

28. Lnd. Advocate for the Workman relied on the judgment in the case of D. K. Yadav v/s. J. M. A. Industries Ltd., 1993 2 LLJ 696 (SC) in which case the Workman was dismissed from service for unexplained absence without giving opportunity of being heard in terms of clause 13 (2) (iv) of the standing orders of the Company. It is held that before taking any action putting an end to the tenure of an Employee/Workman, fair play requires that a reasonable opportunity to put forth his case is given and domestic enquiry conducted. It is also held that the principles of natural justice must be read into the standing order No. 13 (2) (iv) otherwise it would become arbitrary, unjust and unfair, violating article 14.

29. In the judgment in the case of Nar Singh Pal (supra) relied upon by the Lnd. Advocate for the Workman, it is observed that if order passed by way of punishment is punitive in nature, it is the duty of the respondent to hold regular departmental enquiry and the services could not be terminated by paying retrenchment compensation to the Workman:

30. Thus, from the observations of the Apex Court in both the above judgments it becomes clear that the Workman should be heard before terminating his services irrespective of the fact that the standing orders of the Company provide for such termination. No doubt, in the case at hand clause 7 of Exb. 18 provided for termination of services of the Workman without assigning any reason but in the fact situation in this case wherein it has come on record that the services of the Workman were terminated as his work was unsatisfactory, in the light of observations in both the above judgments, such termination without giving opportunity of being heard to the Workman, amounts to violation of principles of natural justice. Consequently, the ratios in the judgments in the cases of Maharashtra State Electricity Board and Blow Plast Ltd., (both cited supra) cannot be made applicable to the situation in hand.

31. Learned advocate for Party II relied on the judgment in the case of Shri Ratnakar Samuel Gaikwad v/s M/s J. G. Glass Industries Ltd & anr. 2002 (1) ALL MR 986 in which case, the Workman was remaining absent from work habitually and had been issued 35 memos since the date of his appointment. After holding the domestic enquiry, the services of the Workman were terminated upon which the Workman raised the Industrial Dispute. It is held in this judgment that, it would be travesty of justice to saddle the employer with the service of Workman who has been remaining absent habitually and has been issued 35 memos from the time of appointment till his services has been terminated and thus the Hon'ble High Court of Judicature at Bombay agreed with the order passed by the Labour Court which rejected the reference for reinstatement of the Workman with full back wages and continuity of service. The above judgment has been relied upon by Lnd. Advocate for Party II to canvass that like the Workman in the instant case, who had been issued several memos, the Workman in the above case was also issued the memos and in view of the same his services were terminated.

32. It may be mentioned here that the situation in the case of Shri Ratnakar Samuel Gaikwad (supra) was different from the situation in the instant case since in the above case the Workman was dismissed from services after holding an enquiry and being aggrieved by the said dismissal, the Workman had raised the industrial dispute. In the case at hand it is made clear by Shri Subhash Naik in his cross examination that Party II does not conduct departmental enquiries in respect of the memos issued and that he is not aware whether any departmental enquiry was held against the Workman during his entire service. It is therefore clear that in the case at hand no such enquiry has been conducted and therefore the observations in the above case on the contrary help the case of the Workman herein who has contended that there is violation of principles of natural justice by terminating his services without giving him opportunity of being heard.

33. It is also the case of the Workman that while terminating his services Party II has contravened section 25 G and Section 25H of the Act.

34. Section 25 G of the Act speaks about procedure for retrenchment which is that the employer shall ordinarily retrench the Workman who was the last person to be employed in that category and Section 25 H of the Act speaks about re-employment of retrenched Workman which is that when the employer proposes to take into his employ any persons he has to give an opportunity to the retrenched Workmen who offer themselves for re-employment and they shall have preference over other persons.

35. No doubt, the Workman in his evidence has stated that Party II did not follow the principle of "last come, first go" and that after terminating his service, Party II took new employees in his place but no opportunity was given for re-employment but it is seen that the Workman has not produced any cogent and convincing evidence on the above subject and even for that matter no case of contravention of section 25 G and 25 H of the Act has been suggested to Shri Subhash Naik of Party II. It is therefore clear that the Workman has failed to prove that Party II has terminated his services in contravention of Section 25 G and 25 H of the Act. Hence my findings.

36. Issue No. 2: Workman has stated in his affidavit in evidence that Party II has converted most of their permanent employees on contract after issuing them contract letters to deprive them the benefit of gratuity and other legal dues and that such act on the part of Party II is unfair labour practice. Workman has further stated that at the time of joining the services of Party II, he was employed in a permanent post and at the time of termination of his services, he was on contract. It is pertinent to note that the Workman has not examined any of the employees of Party II who according to him were permanent employees converted on contract by Party II after issuing them contract letters. As regards the case of Workman that he was employed in the permanent post, I have already discussed supra that the appointment letter of the Workman at Exb. 12 does not show that he was appointed on "permanent" post. Even for that matter, in the cross examination of Shri Subhash Naik it is not suggested that the action of Party II of converting most of their permanent employees into contract employees by giving them fixed term contract letter is an unfair labour practice under the Act. Thus, I am of the opinion that Workman has failed to prove this issue.

37. Issue No. 1: Above discussion reveals that Party II has terminated the services of the Workman in contravention of section 25F of the Act as well as by violating principles of natural justice and that such termination is illegal, unjust and arbitrary. The Workman has stated that since termination of his service he is unemployed; that he is in need of a job and has tried and has been trying a job in the newspaper line but did not succeed. He has also I stated that presently he is being supported by his family members/parents. It deserves to be noted that at the time of termination of his services the Workman was holding the post of Asstt. News Co-ordinator. In order to grant reinstatement of the Workman in service and continuity in service, it was required of the Workman, to show that presently there exists vacancy in the category of such post with Party II and this is because the services of the Workman were terminated way back in the year 2003. Even as regards his statement that presently he is being supported by his parents/family members or that he has been trying for a job, the Workman has not produced any convincing evidence to substantiate such statements. In the absence of evidence of above nature, it would not be proper and justified to order reinstatement of the Workman with full back wages and continuity in service.

38. In the case of Incharge Officer & Anr v/s Shankar Shetty 2010(9) SCC 126 and Senior Superintendent Telegraph (Traffic) Bhopal v/s Santosh Kumar Seal & Ors AIR 2010SC 2140, the Apex Court has observed that "It is true that the earlier view of this Court articulated in many decisions reflected the legal position that if the termination of an employee was found to be illegal, the relief of reinstatement with full back wages would ordinarily follow. However, in recent past, there has been a shift in the legal position and in a long line of cases, this Court has consistently taken the view that relief by way of reinstatement with back wages is not automatic and may be wholly inappropriate in a given fact situation even though the termination of an employee is in contravention of the prescribed procedure. Compensation instead of reinstatement has been held to meet the ends of justice."

39. In the light of above observations of the Hon'ble Apex Court coupled with the absence of evidence showing existence of vacancy in the post of Asstt. News Co-ordinator in Party II, so also in the absence of convincing evidence showing as to how the Workman has been maintaining himself since the date of his termination till date, I am of the considered opinion that compensation instead of reinstatement/back wages would meet the ends of justice. It may be mentioned here that the Workman was in service of Party II since November, 1994 and has been terminated in November, 2003. Thus, considering this period of service and also considering the fact that the Workman has thereafter spent substantial amount towards litigation, I am of the opinion that compensation of an amount of ₹ 4,00,000/- in lieu of reinstatement back wages would be just, fair and reasonable. Hence my findings.

40. Under the circumstances and in view of discussion supra, I pass the following order:

ORDER

1. It is hereby held that the action of the management of M/s. Gomantak Private Limited, Panaji, in terminating the services of Shri Savio D'Souza, Assistant News Co-ordinator w.e.f. 01-01-2004, is illegal and unjustified.
2. The Party II is directed to pay to the Workman monetary compensation of ₹ 4,00,000/- (Rupees four lakhs only) within two months from the date of publication of award failing which the same shall carry interest at the rate of 9% p.a.

Inform the Government accordingly.
